MATTERS AT ALBANY.

A LIVELY WEEK AT THE EMPIRE STATE CAPITOL.

Lawyers, Politicians, Farmers, and Laboring Men Invade the Knickerbocker Town—Straws in the Political Wind—Death of a Popular Ex-Speaker.

Special Albany Letter.]

Political and social matters have been very lively during the past week. The Legislature got down to work, and the meeting of the State Bar Association, the State Agricultural Society, the Federation of Labor and the Governor's reception, together with the attendant visits of Vice-President Stevenson and Senator Hill, filled up the cup of local gossip and curiosity to the brim.

Perhaps the meeting of the State Bar Association attracted the most attention. The meeting was characterized by a scarcely concealed sentiment of rivalry to the New York City Bar Association, which has taken such vigorous action in our recent political history. Nothing, of course, of a political character appeared in the addresses or proceedings of the Association. Yet the knowledge of the recent rejection of William B. Hornblower as a candidate for United States Supreme Court Justice, owing to the opposition of Senator Hill, and the presence of the New York Senator, accompanied by Vice-President Stevenson as the chief cynosure of the occasion, were matters that did not escape the attention of the hundreds of experienced politicians that invaded the town. Senator Dolph, of Oregon, who delivered the principal address to the lawyers, was fairly overshadowed by the peculiar political atmosphere of the occasion.

Two thousand invitations had been issued for the Governor's reception, and more than half the number were present. They included the most prominent politicians in the State, although the representation of Republicans and Mugwumps was rather overshadowed by the preponderance of machine Democrats. It was very evident that four men were the chief figures of the occasion, and these men were the Vice-President, Governor Flower, Senator Hill and ex-Judge Maynard. All of these gentlemen were the recipients of ovations. The Republican members of the Legislature and State officers all accepted the Governor's hospitality. The newly elected Judge of the Court of Appeals, Edward T. Bartlett, was present, and smilingly witnessed the Democratic tribute to his defeated rival. Mr. Maynard appeared in fine health, and showed no effects of his political overthrow. He has opened a law office here, and returned to the practice of his profession.

The opinion of politicians is uniform that the events of the week indicate the renomination of Governor Flower by the Democrats. The Governor is evidently resolved to test his popularity, and that he is popular with the State Democrats is beyond question. It would be utterly futile to attempt to defeat his renomination by his party if he desires to run again.

The legislative pot has only fairly begun to boil, and two of the interesting political subjects up are the Buffalo charter bill and the New York Police Commission bill. Both of these bills are the subject of some very shrewd wire-pulling.

There is general regret expressed here over the death of ex-Speaker George Z. Erwin. Both branches of the Legislature, of which he had been a popular member, adjourned out of respect for his memory. The ex-Speaker was a thoroughly manly man, and he was as much liked by Democrats as Republicans. He was a strong partisan, but naturally generous and fair-minded. He served six years in the Assembly and four years in the Senate. He was always cool and self-possessed, and made an admirable Speaker. He often jokingly called himself the "ugliest man in the State." His features were peculiarly rugged, but full of character and manly strength, and his manner was always full of quiet dignity and firmness. Had not his health failed he would have been a prominent figure in the present Legislature.

Troubles of the Owl.

The owl is hated by all other birds. Where one is discovered by other day-loving species they subject it to the direst persecutions. Owls could scarcely live as a day-loving bird under the present order of things. It would be driven from the earth; and, supposing it took on gradually its thieving habits for a living, it has had to love darkness rather than light because of these evil deeds. At any rate, the naked fact seems to be that night-working creatures can generally see well in the daylight when they want to.

Virtues of an Emetic.

There was a great deal of wisdom in the old practice of giving emetics, such as ipecac. It did a great deal of good. It might not be very pleasant, but it was effective. Now, if you had a real, first-class case of malaria, I don't know that I could do better than to advise a trip to Europe; or, if you should not be able to go to Europe, then a little ocean trip, out of sight of land, and the swell of the waves. There's nothing like an unloading, and you would soon feel very much better. In all these ills you get your stomach overloaded, your digestion fails, and you retain your food in your system. After a good emetic or an ocean trip has done its work you will wonder how you got along with such a vinegar factory inside of you.—Interview with a Doctor.

Chinese Advance.

Vast and populous as China is, the experience of the present century shows that she is weak for aggressive purposes. She has not the hold on territory adjacent to her borders which she could claim a hundred years ago. European nations are pressing on her, both on the south and on the north. She has been forced to cede a portion of her territory to England, and she has been compelled to avail herself of the help of Englishmen, both for civil administration and for military command.

All these things show that an expansion of the Chinese race does not necessarily involve an extension of Chinese dominion. On the contrary, they tend to prove that it is the order introduced by European administration which leads to the multiplication of these industrious people; and there is, therefore, at least as much ground for saying that, though Borneo, Sumatra and New Guinea, and the great islands of the Eastern Archipelago, may be ultimately peopled by yellow races, they will be governed by the white races, as for believing that a new Chinese Empire is in process of formation; a Chinese India may, in other words, be developed in these great and fertile islands.—The Edinburgh Review.

Washing the Smoke.

They have just been trying in Birmingham, England, an exceeding smoky, but not foggy city, an invention for washing the smoke and making it clean before it is turned loose in the air. The idea is not a new one, but in this application of it there are some novel features. As the smoke proceeds from the furnace to the chimney shaft it is drawn away near the point of connection with the stack by means of a powerful fan revolving at a great speed. It is then forced through a cylinder making 280 revolutions a minute into a tank filled with water. The water is agitated by perforated beaters, and this process has the effect of washing the smoke, which is then allowed to escape perfectly purified into the atmosphere direct, or is conducted back to the chimney. The carbon is precipitated to the bottom of the tank, and is brought out in a thick; bubbling black froth, forming a deposit, the worth of which is put at about $50 a ton, along with other by-products of an extremely valuable character. This device may be applied to factory furnaces, locomotives, steamboat engines, and, in fact, to all large furnaces. A company has been formed to work it, and there is a loud call for its trial in London.—Buffalo Commercial.

Chance for Another Rush.

Another strip of Indian lands, the northern part of the Colville reservation, in Washington, will probably be thrown open to settlement next fall. Government surveyors completed their survey of the strip about a week ago. The reservation is bounded on the north by the British Columbia boundary line, on the west by the Okanogan River, and on the south and east by the Columbia River. The portion to be thrown open for settlement extends the whole width of the reservation and from the British Columbia boundary to about thirty-six miles south. It has an approximate area of 2,500 square miles. There are a few Indians on the strip, who will receive each 160 acres before the land is thrown open to the whites.

Indian Logic.

It is to an Indian the most inexplicable thing in the world that the Government will furnish him with the means of getting drunk, and then punish him for what he does when he is in that condition. This has been the most difficult thing to explain to them that I have undertaken since I have been with them, says Lieut. Z. B. Vance. They considered at first that the fact that they were drunk when they committed an offense ought to be an ample excuse.

Been Tried Before.

Young Biggars—No, I can't say that I believe in those Bible fables. In fact, I take higher ground.

Deacon Potterby—Yes? If history isn't wrong there were some fellows in Noah's time who thought that higher ground would answer all purposes, but they rather made a failure of it.

DEMOCRATIC CAUCUS.

A Democratic caucus was held in Town Hall Wednesday evening to nominate candidates for officers for the Town of Bloomsburg. The meeting was called to order at half past seven o'clock by James H. Mercer, who asked for some one to be named as chairman of the meeting. J. C. Rutter was made chairman and W. B. Allen secretary. The chairman stated that the first business was that of nominations for President of Council. A motion was made that no nomination be made, another motion made that Wm. Chrisman Esq. be named. After some discussions as to nominating a candidate—the chair put the motion and being unable to divide, determined to divide the house, and put the motion that all in favor of no nomination shall pass to the north side of the hall, when after being counted—all opposed to the motion passed to one side—a count showed the motion lost; and nominations were called. The names of Wm. Chrisman and Dr. T. C. Harter were placed in nomination—a vote was taken by having them again pass to one side of the hall and a count made—the result was the nomination of Wm, Chrisman Esq.. Nominations were made for members of the Town Council, tellers appointed and a vote taken by ballot with the following result:

Stephen Knorr	101
Clinton Sterling	79
Isaac Yost	78
Wm. Housel	47
J. D. Jones	24
Fred Schwinn	12

Knorr, Sterling and Yost were declared the nominees.

John. M. Clark was nominated by acclamation for Justice of the Peace.

For School Director the following were placed in nomination. M. Ellenbogen and Louis Lowenberg appointed tellers. The result was:

J. R. Townsend	65
C. A. Kleim	41

Mr. Townsend was declared the nominee.

For Tax Collector the names of M. C. Woodward and J. K. Bittenbender was placed in nomination. Harry Rhodes and Wesley Knorr appointed tellers. The result of the vote was:

M. C. Woodward	59
J. K. Bittenbender	55

The convention then divided into four sections, each one representing a district of the Town, and the following nominations made:

First District; Assessor for registration of voters, J. Q. Barkley; Judge of Election, W. E. Knorr; Inspector of Election, F. C. Eyer.

Second District; Assessors for registration of voters, F. P. Baum; Judge of Election, John Welliver; Inspector of Election, Samuel Pugh.

Third District; Assessor for registration of voters, Peter Billmeyer; Judge of Election, Eli Jones; Inspector of Election, Rush Zarr.

Fourth District; Assessor for registration of voters, Peter Jones; Judge of Election, Isaiah Ohl; Inspector of Election, H. W. Gigger.

WILFRED CLARKE.

Mr. Wilfred Clarke does not believe that the public taste has degenerated to any great extent during the reign of so-called farce-comedy with its clownishness and horse-play, and his success during the past three seasons in presenting comedy of the purer type proves that he is right and that the public is always willing to pay for the privilege of enjoying such comedies when presented by capable actors. Mr. Clarke, himself, has become such a prominent figure in the theatrical world that he scarcely needs any mention in the connection, suffice to say, that as "Paul Roach," the nervous, irritable, and jealous young husband in "Tit for Tit," he finds ample room for the display of his remarkable talents His company has been carefully selected and each member seems to be fully up to the requirements of high-class comedy. They will be seen at the Bloomsburg Opera House on Saturday, February 3.

On Monday Judge Ikeler appointed Frank Pursel and Frank Ikeler as appraisers in the matter of the assignment of I. W. McKelvy, who made a deed of assignment to A. Z. Schoch last week Thursday. When the appraisers have completed their work the store will be opened by the assignee, and the stock closed out.

Frank Ikeler severed his connection with the Farmers' National Bank on Thursday and A. H. Bloom is now the cashier of that institution. Mr. Ikeler has been a popular and obliging official and he made many friends. He will pursue his law studies, and will soon be admitted to the bar, where he will no doubt meet with success.

REPUBLICAN CAUCUS.

A republican caucus was held in Town Hall Tuesday evening. The meeting was called to order by J. C. Brown, who asked for nomination for a chairman; G. E. Wilbur was named and unanimously chosen. Fred Holmes was made secretary. The chairman said the first business of the meeting was the naming of a candidate for President of the Town Council. Isaiah Hagenbuch placed in nomination. W. O. Holmes and Jacob Stiner nominated F. P. Drinker, both were duly seconded; a ballot was called for and K. C. Ent and John Woods named as tellers, the result was, W. O. Holmes, 32; F. P. Drinker, 27, and G C. Sloan, 1 Mr. Holmes was declared the nominee for President ef the council.

The next was for the nomination of members of the Council, it was moved and seconded that three persons be named. The following were placed in nomination. S. C. Creasy, M. K. Appleman, Wm. Swentzel, J. E. Wilson, B. F. Hicks. The chairman appointed Wm. J. Shutt and Theodore Smith as tellers, and announced that each one should vote for three candidates. The result was as follows: S. C. Creasy 39, M. K. Appleman 25, Wm. Swentzel, 35, J. E. Wilson 37, B. F. Hicks, 53.

For Justice of the Peace, J. C. Brown made a motion that they agreed upon the endorsement of John M. Clark Esq., the present incumbent, it was seconded whereupon, T. E. Geddis made a speech in opposition. Calls were then made to name some one for the place, but no name being mentioned the chair put Mr. Brown's motion, which showed so close a vote that he could not give a decision, Mr. Brown asked to withdraw his motion, and there being no objection it was withdrawn. Thos. E. Geddis was then named, who declined at once. After a little delay J. K. Edgar was placed in nomination.

For school director W. E. Rinker was nominated without any opposition.

For tax collector there was quite a hesitancy as no one seemed to want it. Isaiah Hagenbuch was named, who quickly withdrew saying he did not care to hunt for a bondsman for $40,000. The chairman passed to the next office, that of Triennial Assessor, and Chas. W. Runyon was named without opposition. The chair again returned to that of tax collector and L. D. Kase was made the nominee.

Each district being represented they took the four corners of the room and made nominations as follows: First District, Register of voters, K. C. Ent; Judge of Election, Theodore L. Smith; Inspector, Fred Holmes. Second District, Register of Voters, H. J. Hartman; Judge of Election, D. Bryfogle; Inspector, Chas. Hendershott. Third District, Register of Voters, B. W. Hagenbuch; Judge of Election, T. E. Geddis; Inspector, E. J. Gerringer. Fourth District, Register of Voters, J. E. Heacock; Judge of Election, W. C. Shaw; Inspector, W. J. Shutt.

Senator Herring's mail is prodigious nowadays, and it is astonishing how many people there are who want positions. He will take charge of the office on Saturday, and it is still undecided whether it will be located in Bloomsburg, Williamsport or Wilkes-Barre. It ought to come to Bloomsburg, and unless too much pressure is brought to bear, no doubt it will come here.

While loading cinder at Neal's cinder tip last Monday morning William Shaffer's horses became frightened, and started up, entangling him in the lines, and dragging him several feet, breaking two ribs and bruising him badly. Geo. Morris was with him, and he was nearly covered by a slide of cinder, but escaped with a few bruises.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Farmer's Produce Exchange was held on the 25th inst. when the following officers were elected: President, S. J. Conner; Treasurer, G W. Correll; Secretary, G. W. Suplee; Managers, M. B. Patterson, Daniel Bryfogle; Auditors, A. W. Spear and Eva Rupert. The auditors report showed a gratifying increase in the business and profits for the past year.

The litigation between the Bloomsburg Belt Railroad and the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western has terminated by an adjustment of their differences, in which the D. L. & W. is permitted to cross the Belt line tracks at Seventh street, and the Belt line will cross the tracks of the D. L. & W. at the School Furnishing Company's works. J. B. Robison Esq. is the master in the case and will file a decree to that effect.

STUCK IN THE MUD.

A FISH STORY THAT EDITOR RANDALL DOESN'T TELL.

Editor Randall of the Catawissa News Item, is fond of trout fishing and of relating fish stories connected therewith, but here is one which, singularly enough, he has thus far failed to tell. Last spring Editor Randall with a few congenial spirits, devotees to Isaac Walton's art, went over to the Lehigh river to camp and murder little trout and eat them. One day the editor with a companion left the river and followed a small stream into the mountains until they came upon an abandoned saw-mill and dam. The flat lands that had been covered by the waters of the dam were left marshy and wet in places when the waters had receded, forming muddy trenches covered with small grass. The editor's companion was ahead and finally stepped into one of these ditches and sunk into the mud above his knees unperceived by the editor. Here was a chance to work the editor into the same predicament. The companion moved along the ditch, on the opposite side from the editor, nearer to the channel of the creek, where the ditch would naturally be deeper and wider, and began calling to the editor to hurry along back to the river as the fishing was poor in the creek. The editor, nothing loath, hastened to reel in his line, and walk, quite naturally, toward his companion, as said companion knew he would, until he came to the ditch and then into it he stepped and sank, floundered and sank some more until in his frantic efforts to get out, he got in up to his middle and stuck. The companion relates that such language as that editor used while in that ditch would not look well in print, much less would it be acceptable in a drawing room. But with all the bad language he was in the mud fast and sure. The companion was obliged to pull the editor out, but had the companion been at once transported to where the editor in his mad ravings consigned him, he would not have been there to assist. The editor has not yet done with berating the man who led him into the mud, but he never told that fish story.—Wilkesbarre Leader.

The team belonging to Cameron's bottling establishment came running down Main street last Friday morning at 10 o'clock without a driver. They were in the middle of the street, but at the post office they turned to the pavement, and ran into an iron awning post, the end of the pole striking the post and tearing it out. The force of the collision was so great that it bent the post and stopped the team. P. A. Evans' horse and buggy was standing in front of J. G. Wells' store, and the wheels of the two wagons were interlocked, and if the team had not stopped much damage might have been done. As it was nothing was broken.

Notwithstanding the excitement in financial circles during the past week, the credit of the banks was in no manner impaired. It was feared that a run might be precipitated, and the banks were fully prepared for any such an emergency, but there was no occasion for it. Our financial institutions are as solid as a rock, and the idle rumors set afloat by thoughtless persons did not effect them to any noticeable extent.

The following letters are held at the Bloomsburg, Pa., post office and will be sent to the dead letter office Feb. 13, 1894.

Mrs. Jerome Bitler, Miss Mattie Painton.

Persons calling for these letters will please say they were advertised Jan. 30, 1893. One cent will be charged on each letter advertised.

A. B. CATHCART, P. M.

A large number of our subscribers paid up during last month, but there are still many who are in debt for subscription, and to those we must say that a settlement will be highly appreciated. Several thousand dollars are standing out, and every dollar helps.

G. Shuster and A. A. Hawk will have public sale of Illinois horses at Wright's Livery Stable, Berwick. Pa., on Tuesday of next week February 6th. Sale will commence at 1 o'clock sharp. They will sell twenty-three head of horses.

The County Commissioners are kept busy getting affairs fixed up for the new year. They expect to have the new bonds ready to issue in a few days, preparatory to going ahead with the contracts made by the old board of Commissioners.

BRIEF MENTION.

About People You Know.

W. K. Armstrong of Williamsport, was visiting friends in town Monday.

F. L. Foust's family is among the sufers with sickness. His children are afflicted with measles.

A. P. Young of Millville, was transacting business at the county seat Saturday.

S. A. Goodhue and John Flynn of Jamison City were in town on Wednesday.

Ex-commissioner C. L. Sands returned from his western trip on Wednesday night.

W. R. Hagenbuch, the popular salesman of Frimyer & Co., of Philadelphia, was in town on Thursday.

Rev. P. A. Heilman will address the meeting at Y. M. C. A. Hall on Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. J. S. Yohe of Mifflin township expects to move to Bloomsburg in the spring. Clark Miller has rented her farm.

Dr. D. H. Billmeyer and wife are expected home soon from Montana. They are at present in Fondulac, Wis.

Rev. Father Reilly of Danville, formerly pastor of the Roman Catholic church in Bloomsburg, was in town on Wednesday, on business.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Hagenbuch will celebrate their silver wedding on February 17th, at their home in Centre township.

Mr. John G. Harman second son of P. S. Harman, and Miss May, daughter of H. G. Sherwood were married in Elmira, New York, last week by Rev. Dr. McKnight.

Miss Stella Sickler of Tunkhannock, a daughter of the late Hon. Harvey J. Sickler, and a graduate of the Normal School, was married to Mr. Edwin J. Jordan on January 1st.

Dr. H. S. Hutchison, physician in charge of the Keeley Institute Scranton, Pa., was in town last week. He made a contract for advertisement, which appears in another column. Any information in reference to the Institute will be cheerfully given by addressing postal to Scranton, Pa.

Mr. J. H. Coleman who has filled the position of traveling salesman for L. T. Sharpless & Company very acceptably for the past six years, severed his connection with that firm the first of this month, and is now traveling for Mattson & Magee, wholesale grocers, of Philadelphia. He has an extensive acquaintance and commands a large trade.

Mrs. Stephen Dresher of Stillwater and her two daughters, Mrs. E B. Beishline and Miss Josephine, were in town on Saturday last. Mrs. Dresher is a daughter of the late Esquire Rhone, and their farm is one of the finest in the up creek region. It is located about a half mile above the village of Stillwater, and is intersected by the B. & S. Railroad. We remember with pleasure the open hospitality of their home, when business called us there a few years ago.

THE NEW POSTMASTER.

The name of J. H. Mercer was sent to the Senate by the President on Tuesday last and he will no doubt be confirmed.

Go and hear Wilfred Clarke at the Opera House Saturday evening, February 3rd.

So long as our supply of almanacs lasts they will be presented to all our subscribers who pay a year's subscription. It was expected that the supply would be exhausted in January, but as there are still some left, they will be given to all those who pay in February.

The third anniversary of the Young Men's Christian Association will be held in the Opera House on Monday evening, February 5th. A pleasant program has been arranged, and the anniversary address will be delivered by Dr. Geo. E. Reed, President of Dickinson College, Carlisle.

Nomination certificates must be filed eighteen days before the election, and certificates by nomination papers fifteen days before the election. Candidates for borough or township offices should be careful to get their papers in time.

Now is the time to fix dates for spring sales. Bring your bills to this office, and you will receive a free notice in the paper, which alone is worth the price charged for the bills.

HALL AND STAIRWAY.

They Play an Important Part in Modern Houses.

A Fashion of Centuries Ago in Vogue Once More—How the First Steps to the Staircase Are Arranged—The Newel Post.

House planning, like everything else on this globe of earth, develops in cycles. Fashions come and go. What was in vogue in one century goes out in the next, and a hundred years or so later it comes back again. Centuries ago in castles all over Europe the hall was the one chamber in which most of the domestic life of the time was lived. The hearthstone of hospitality was found there. Does not the reader of "Le Morte D'Arthur" remember how

A MODERN HALL AND STAIRWAY.

"Dame Liones counseled Sir Gareth to sleep in none other place but in the hall?" In modern times things were exactly reversed, and the hall was reduced to comparative insignificance, as something hardly better than a passageway to the dining-room, drawing-room and other familiar chambers. This cycle began to show signs of ending not many years back, and the hall once more plays a leading part in social life. Its return to its original purpose of a sitting-room has brought back many delightful features of domestic architecture. The great fireplace, with andirons and blazing logs, is one of them. A fireplace of this sort needs plenty of unincumbered space about it, so that the members of the home circle can move their chairs near to the flames or away from them as the heat rises or falls under the fluctuations of the winter wind. In a country house of ordinary dimensions no other chamber can give quite so much space to the chairs as the hall can. Then there is the window-seat, which, with pretty cushions and a leaded glass window just above the level of one's shoulders, is in summer or winter as comfortable a lounging place as it is artistic.

But there is no feature of the most modern country hall which is more interesting than the staircase, or, more particularly, the first steps of the staircase. The special treatment of this detail in small houses is in fact peculiar to recent architecture. Until a very late day architects rarely took as much pains as they do now to start their stairway with some touch of decorative originality that would introduce an artistic and useful factor into their scheme for the hall. A broad platform raised one or two steps above the floor, and with a window seat, lends a charming picturesqueness to the effect of an evening gathering when a group of young people is formed about it. At other times it is the best of all places for a stately rubber plant or a vase of hydrangeas. In some houses the designers have spent themselves in building a screen of delicate spindles around the stairs, placing a seat against the former on the hall floor, and this screen, of course, has counted in the decoration of the hall. The newel post has gone through all sorts of transformations. In one house it remains the strictly independent member which our colonial grandfathers made it, and is attractive simply as a marvel of scroll work and of "tops" which look like Ossa piled upon Pelion. In another it serves as a pedestal for either a lamp or a flower jar, and in this last guise it has been possibly most often struggled with by the ambitious decorator, who has given it all manner of shapes. In the sketch which accompanies this, a picture of an English interior, there is seen the natural outcome of the evolutionary process through which the hall newel post has passed. It has been developed—out of existence. In its place, on the wide platform provided by the first or second step, there stands a porcelain flower vase. It will not be long before other objects are substituted for this and statues are put in position at the beginning of the stairs. This may look like a return to the permanent newel post, but it will really have the advantage of leaving the staircase clear at this point if for any special occasion the hostess wishes to remove her work of art. The flower jar is perhaps best adapted to the corner. It gives just the required emphasis and it is free from the aggressiveness and occasional inconvenience which belongs to the newel post that is immovable.—N. Y. Tribune.

To Keep Plates Hot.

An invention which does fill the much talked of and long felt want is a hot-water platter. It has a sunken surface which holds the boiling water and another depression in which to place a dish to be kept hot. This is the only way of preventing the food becoming dry and tasteless, but this way is remarkably sure.

Novelties in Candlesticks.

Fantastic candlesticks are to be seen in china shops of late, in flower designs. There are tulips, crocuses and roses, all made so that the flower, wide open, will hold the candle inserted. They are very realistic, but not particularly seemly. One does not fancy the thought of a light thrust into the heart of a flower.

New Postal Regulations.

The post office authorities at Washington have sent out instructions in effect that hereafter persons mailing printed matter to foreign countries should write the address on the articles as well as on the wrapper. This action is taken to prevent the loss of articles of this description. Wrappers are frequently mutilated and in some cases torn entirely off by contact with other packages while in transit. This resulted in an accumulation of articles whose owners are not known.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, and expels all poisonous elements. Sold by druggists.

Mrs. J. W. Mackay is popularly referred to in England as "the silver queen."

Wrinkles, and hollow cheeks, and dull, sunken eyes, don't always mean that a woman's old. Half the time, they only show that she's overworked or suffering. To such women, to every woman who is tired or afflicted, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription safely and certainly brings back health and strength. It's a legitimate medicine that corrects and cures; a tonic that invigorates and builds up; a nervine that soothes and strengthens. For all the derangements, irregularities and weaknesses peculiar to women, it is the only guaranteed remedy. If it doesn't benefit or cure, you have your money back.

It won't do to experiment with Catarrh. There's the constant danger of driving it to the lungs. You can have a perfect and permanent cure with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy.

A girl in an Auburn shoe shop earns $40 a week sewing tips into shoes. She received a cent a tip, and one day recently she sewed in 941 tips.

A lot of new notes of the sharpest kind have just been printed and are for sale at this office. Also common receipts, estate receipts, and collectors' receipts, neatly bound in books of 25, 50 and 100. tf.

The breath of a chronic catarrh patient is often so offensive that he becomes an object of disgust. After a time ulceration sets in, the spongy bones are attacked, and frequently destroyed. A constant source of discomfort is the dripping of the purulent secretions into the throat, sometimes producing inveterate bronchitis, which is usually the exciting cause of pulmonary disease. The brilliant results by its use for years past properly designate Ely's Cream Balm as by far the best and only cure. Call upon your druggist for it.

A woman oftener tells what she thinks than what she knows.

Men may make creeds, but they can't make religion.

No man is absolutely free from hypocrisy.

Ask Your Friends

Who have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla what they think of it, and the replies will be positive in its favor. Simply what Hood's Sarsaparilla does, that tells the story of its merit. One has been cured of indigestion or dyspepsia another finds it indispensable for sick headache or biliousness, while others report remarkable cures of scrofula, catarrh, rheumatism, salt rheum, etc.

Hood's Pills are purely vegetable.

Rheumatism Cured in a Day.—"Mystic Cure" for Rheumatism and Neuralgia, radically cures in 1 to 3 days. Its action upon the system is remarkable and mysterious. It removes at once the cause and the disease immediately disappears. The first dose greatly benefits, 75 cts. Sold by C. A. Kleim, Druggist, Bloomsburg. 11-10-8m.

Fashionable Livery.

The well known horseman has opened a fashionable livery in connection with his boarding stable at the Exchange Hotel Stables, where fine turnouts can be obtained, single or double. He has well broken and safe saddle and driving horses for ladies, all at reasonable rates. Orders left at the Exchange Hotel will receive prompt attention. Drivers furnished when desired.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 2, 1894.

STATE DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For Congress-at-Large.

JAMES DENTON HANCOCK,

of Venango County.

JAMES DENTON HANCOCK.

Headquarters Democratic State Central Committee.

1432 SOUTH PENN SQUARE, PHILADELPHIA.

PHILADELPHIA, January 31, 1894.

TO THE ELECTORS OF PENNSYLVANIA :

The Democratic State Convention, held in Harrisburg, January 10, 1894, nominated its candidate and adopted its platform with unanimity and with a degree of enthusiasm that has not been surpassed. A representative convention of nearly five hundred delegates, assembled from every Representative district in the State, without a seat contested and without a dissenting voice, ranged itself in solid support of the national organization of the party and of the Democratic Administration of the Federal and State Governments. It nominated a representative Democrat as the candidate for Representative-at-Large in Congress upon a platform in accordance with the last authorized deliverance of the National Democracy, and with its exposition by a Democratic President. It declared their sympathy with and support of the efforts of a Democratic Congress to relieve the country from business depression and from all the bad effects of Republican misrule. It declared for a true American system which would bring relief for languishing commercial interests, better wages to American labor, and which will restore American commerce.

Hon. James Denton Hancock, of Franklin, Venango County, the candidate for Representative at Large in Congress, is a man of high and pure character, of large attainments and experience, with the intelligence to have convictions and the courage and honesty to avow them. He is the candidate of the whole party, and is entitled to its unanimous support.

Gratified by these conditions, the organization of the Democratic Party in Pennsylvania, feels encouraged to call upon the electors of the State, without regard to party affiliations, to rally to his support. We believe that the principle of tariff reform has permeated the minds of the people of Pennsylvania, and that, in the language of the Harrisburg platform, they are ready to "record the vote of their State in Congress for an enlightened, liberal and progressive system, that must quicken the prosperity of our Commonwealth and promote the general welfare of the country."

We have everything to gain and nothing to lose by discussion and agitation. I therefore appeal to and call upon the organization of the party in every election district to disseminate the principles of the party as declared in its platform and in the deliverances of its candidate, and to promote, full, fair and free discussion of the issues of the campaign. To the end that there may be efficient and vigorous organization, I call upon the Democracy of the State to perfect their organizations by counties, election districts and by school districts. Above all, let there be a spirit of unity and harmony througout the organization and in every district, so that a singleness of purpose may pervade the efforts of the party toward the election of its candidate, and unity of counsel may be joined with efficiency of organization and aggression in action. If the half million Democratic voters of Pennsylvania will record their votes for the nominee of their party, Pennsylvania will take its right place in the Democratic line.

J. MARSHALL WRIGHT,
Chairman of the Democratic State Committee.

GENERAL NEWS.

Gold, silver and lead have been discovered in Spruce Hill, near Bourneville, Ross county, Ohio, by A. W. Stretchler, of Xenia, who became wealthy by similar discoveries in California forty years ago. Springfield capitalists are associated with him. They have been prospecting over six months and will begin digging in two weeks. W. F. Mitchell and Miss Sallie Mitchell own the hill in which they have found the valuable metal.

Eddie Brotherston a ten-year old boy disappeared from his home in Ashley about two weeks ago. Every stream and pond has been dragged, but no trace of him. It is supposed he has been kidnapped.

Geo. W. Childs, proprietor of the Philadelphia Ledger, is lying in a critical condition, the result of paralysis which followed his attack of vertigo of the 18th inst.

February "Cosmopolitan".

The Secret of the great success of THE COSMOPOLITAN is not so hard to find, if one looks carefully over the number for February. A story by Vaides, the famous Spanish novelist, the first from his pen to appear in any American magazine, is begun in this number. Arthur Sherburne Hardy's story, "A Rejected Manuscript" is charmingly illustrated by I. Marold, who we believe makes his first appearance in the magazines on this side of the water. A profusely illustrated article on the designing and building of a war-ship appeals to the interest taken by all in the new navy, and a thrilling description of a naval combat under the significant title : "The Melo ban and the Pentheroy" describes after the manner of the Battle of Dorking, a possible sea fight, the outcome of which is watched by the entire naval world. "Gliding Flight" is an interesting contribution to the problem of aerial navigation by one who has studied the flight of soaring birds in the East for twenty years. Blaine Goodale, who married a member of the Sioux nation of Indian Wars and Warriors. T. C. Crawford, the Washington correspondent, gives the first half of a startling story, under the title of "The Disappearance Syndicate". The poetry in this number by Sir Edwin Arnold, Graham R. Tomson and William Young, is unusually good. The Departments, "In the World of Art and Letters" and the "Progress of Science" continue to have as contributors men famous in both continents.

THE COSMOPOLITAN for February introduces a famous European author to its readers—Vaides of Madrid, and the artist Marold of Paris, well known as a French illustrator

TOWN TOPICS,

The Journal of Society,

(32 PAGES.) (THURSDAY.)

NEW YORK.

Is universally recognized as the most complete weekly journal in the world.

Its "Saunterings" columns are inimitable. Its society news, especially of the doings of the 400 of New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago, and all over the world, is not equalled by any newspaper. Its Financial Department is authority with all bankers and brokers. Its "Literary Show"—notes on current literature—is by the cleverest of reviewers. Its "Afield and Afloat" makes it the most interesting paper for all lovers of sport—yachting, football, rowing, shooting, fishing, etc. Its "On the Turf" excels all other racing notes. Its burlesques, poems and jokes are the cleverest. Its stories are by the best writers—among them Amélie Rives, F. Marion Crawford, Julian Hawthorne, Edgar Fawcett, Gilbert Parker, Mary J. Hawker ("Lance Falconer"), Barry Pain, Paul Bourget, Rudyard Kipling, Ambrose Bierce, etc., etc., and are, even if a trifle risqué, yet always clever, bright and pretty without coarseness or anything to offend the most refined and moral woman. In addition to all this there is each week a supplement, portrait, in colors, of some man eminent in his walk of life.

Tales From Town Topics

Quarterly, first day of March, June, September, December; 256 pages; 12mo. Contains in each number, in addition to short stories, poems, burlesques, etc., from the old issues of TOWN TOPICS, a complete, original prize story of 120 to 150 pages.

No one who enjoys the highest class of fiction, and would be au courant with all that pertains to good society, can afford to be without TOWN TOPICS every week. There is so much interesting reading in it and in the "Tales," that a club subscription to both will supply any family with abundant reading of the most entertaining character all the year.

RATES:

A Great Literary Sensation, Mr. Hall Caine's New Novel, "The Manxman."

In the New York Ledger of February 17th, the Washington's Birthday number, will be commenced this great novel, Mr. Hall Caine's masterpiece, entitled "The Manxman." The inhabitants of the Isle of Man, a little island off the coast of Scotland, devoted to fishing and agriculture, are known as Manxmen, a sturdy race, full of native pride, traditional, prejudice, sincere, humane and of genuine manliness. This has always been a favorite field of the author. His great novel, "The Deemster," portrays these people. Hall Caine's deep feeling finds an appropriate outlet in these strong, hearty, incorruptible characters, their lives full of peril and suffering and labor. Mr. Caine has always delighted in romantic adventure; his characters are always alive and at work, doing something. His philosophy of novel writing is contained in some words lately addressed by him to an American friend: "Let American authors give us that simple humanity, and it will be quite gross enough and quite palpable enough to our assurance of reality. Let them tell us of the men who make the romance of American life, and we shall not complain that they belong to shadowland." When asked in what way the future of American literature and drama will lie, he answered: "In the way of all English literature, all English science, all English art, all English thought, all English life—the way of romance. No fable was ever so romantic as the history of America." This is the temper of Mr. Hall Caine, and such is the author of our new Ledger story, "The Manxman." No reader of novels can afford to miss it. It is the greatest story of our day. It seizes hold of the heart with a grip that is not relaxed until the whole great tragedy is worked out and the fate of the men and women written down. In reading this story the great lesson is constantly impressed upon the mind that circumstances are quite as powerful in life as character, and that opportunity missed is equivalent to no opportunity offered. Such a great novel, so full of deep lessons of life, will create a wide interest in the Ledger among all intelligent readers, during the coming year.

Not one minute elapses between the taking of One Minute Cough Cure and relief. Why shouldn't people take One Minute Cough Cure? They should. They do.—W. S. Rishton, Druggist.

COMMENTED UPON.

THE PATRIOT is the only complete morning newspaper that reaches central Pennsylvania at an early hour of the day.

It is one of the foremost Democratic newspapers in the state and the only one printed at the State Capital, the official and political center of the Commonwealth

It prints the news, receiving it over its own wires through the extraordinary facilities of the great Press Association, aided by its own correspondents.

THE PATRIOT is Democratic to the core. It is opposed to bosses and an enemy of corrupt monopolies. It isn't afraid to fight the wrong; it never hesitates to speak for the right.

It makes a specialty of department news and gives more each day than all the other State papers combined.

The leading question during the winter will be Tariff Reform. In November next Pennsylvania will elect a Governor, members of Congress, and a State Legislature. The man who desires to keep informed must read, and the man who reads should get THE PATRIOT, daily or weekly.

To place THE PATRIOT in the hands of a yet larger constituency we will send the DAILY from now until March 1, 1895, by mail to any new subscriber on receipt of FIVE DOLLARS. The WEEKLY will be sent to any new subscriber from now until March 1, 1895, on receipt of ONE DOLLAR.

THE PATRIOT is the best advertising medium in Pennsylvania outside of Pittsburg and Philadelphia.

POLITICIANS AND ORATORS IN CONGRESS.

Two Recent Examples Which Show the Power of Old Time Methods—The Rejection of Mr. Hornblower—The Same Old Fight Over "Senatorial Courtesy."

Special Washington Letter.

Who was it that recently remarked that the day of oratory had passed? I rather think the name of this individual is legion. The fact is, it has been rather a fad for some years to depreciate both the politician and orator. We were to have a new era of government, in which business men—plain-spoken fellows, guiltless alike of duplicity or genius—were to run things.

Just at present it appears as if the politicians and orators were coming to the front again. David B. Hill came down to Washington as a broken and discredited politician, shoved into the Senate to get rid of him. In the crisis of the great silver debate, when the Senate was hopelessly deadlocked and the great financial interests of the country were almost hopeless, he suddenly flashed into prominence as the master of the situation, and, by a display of consummate skill, restored conference to the broken Administration ranks, whipped the recalcitrants into line, and, presto! the bill was passed.

The Democrats in the House have been getting into the same sort of muddle over the tariff bill as characterized the conduct of the silver bill in the Senate. They have acted in a dazed, half-hearted way, as if they feared inevitable defeat. Mr. Boutelle, of Maine, and several other sharp Republicans, were having no end of fun with them. The debate dragged. The House welcomed with enthusiasm the eccentric and sockless Simpson, of Kansas, as a relief to the dreary round of Republican attack and Democratic apology which the debate had exhibited. The scene suddenly shifted, owing to the appearance in the debate of Bourke Cockran, ex-Tammany "orator." I do not know any particular qualifications the Tammany society has for selecting orators, but certainly it made no mistake when it conferred that title upon Bourke Cockran. His great speech on the tariff question has restored confidence to the advocates of the Wilson bill, and put that measure in a position of pretty certain success. In many respects Bourke Cockran's oratory revives the best traditions of Congressional debate. It is lofty and dignified, without being stilted or turgid. Above all, it is instinct with the consuming fire of oratorical genius—that quality of conviction and fervor which serves to illuminate argument and to raise logic to the pinnacle of poetic beauty. It is all very well to decry oratory. We have had any amount of the modern style of debate in the present tariff discussion. Well-balanced sentences have been woven about tricky arguments, and statistics have been piled upon assertion in dreary periods that awoke neither conviction nor enthusiasm. It was a relief to hear a speaker who had earnestness and enthusiasm and who inspired alike the friends and foes of the cause he advocated.

The action of the Senate in rejecting the nomination of Mr. Hornblower for the Supreme Court bench has probably brought matters to a head between the President and the New York Senators. It is the general opinion that the defeat of the Administration was rather needless. I have no doubt that Mr. Hornblower was both an able and capable lawyer. President Cleveland has a rare faculty for selecting new men, and doubtless he exercised unusual care in this case in choosing a man whom he deemed fully qualified for the office. A new man is always very open to attack upon the question of eligibility, and there is a quite general conviction among Senators that the Administration is proceeding too far in the matter of ignoring Senatorial advice. There is nothing new in the situation. It is the same old fight. It is safe to say, however, that Senators Hill and Murphy will not follow the example set by Senators Conkling and Platt in 1880, by resigning their seats. I am told that Senator Hill will attempt to take quite as prominent a part with regard to the Wilson tariff bill when it gets in the Senate as he did in the case of the silver bill. Should the Republican Senators assume the role of talking the bill to death he will be afforded a second opportunity to spring his closure programme. The Republicans, however, may not afford him an opportunity.

There is a strong sentiment in favor of allowing the bill to pass. New revenue legislation is absolutely necessary. The Government cannot go forward upon its present or prospective income under the McKinley bill without running steadily in debt. Mr. Carlisle now estimates the deficiency at the end of the fiscal year at about $80,000,000. The Democrats are responsible for providing ways and means to run the Government, and should be allowed to carry out their programme. Senator Hoar, who is the guiding spirit of the Senate minority, is understood to be in favor of fair debate and early action. Hoar is naturally opposed to filibustering, and thinks, with many other members of his party, that the best partisan results will follow from an actual application of the principles of Democratic tariff policy to the interests of the country. He, with other Republicans, hopes to see such a reaction as will return the Republican party to power in all branches of the Government.

The Senate Hawaiian Committee is going pretty thoroughly into the details of that now famous question. The country will be treated to a decided sensation when the committee reports. A great constitutional debate will follow. This question is not generally understood, but, although of slight consequence in itself, it involves the whole subject of the future foreign policy of the Government. There is a much stronger sentiment than is suspected among our public men in favor of cutting loose from our traditional policy of non-interference in the affairs of nations commercially allied to the United States. This will be made plain when the committee reports. The late Administration rather cautiously took up the annexation policy. President Cleveland undertook to thoroughly reverse this action. He has met temporary failure, through not properly estimating the strength of the forces that are actively at work in the interest of a more aggressive foreign policy. Whether he will be able eventually to rally his party unitedly in favor of his policy remains to be seen. The question is not going to be shelved. It involves a subject of real national importance, and neither party is thoroughly united in regard to the issue. In fact, upon what question is either party united at present? The political situation is full of puzzling problems, and underneath the surface the politicians of both parties are seriously anxious in regard to the trend of public sentiment.

TOWNSEND.

Digging for a Fortune.

Near the town of La Plata, in the Argentine Republic, there is a fortune of some $1,800,000, securely bound in a steel chest, buried in the ground outside the city.

This treasure is somewhat on the order of the supposed Capt. Bidd treasure, but the money is in Bank of England notes, and the following is the way in which this enormous amount of cash was hidden from a large party who are on the hunt for it.

When the civil war broke out in Chili, President Balmaceda, feeling the necessity for several men-of-war, commissioned Col. Pinto, one of his most trusted friends, with the amount of money above mentioned to purchase vessels in England.

Col. Pinto embarked on one of the steamers plying between Valparaiso and Liverpool, but the time required for him to get to England was so long that before he reached port Balmaceda had telegraphed him to return without purchasing the ship.

Col. Pinto changed the bills of exchange which the President had given him into Bank of England notes, put them into a steel chest and returned to Valparaiso. En route he learned of the downfall of Balmaceda, and he concluded that the Argentine Republic would be a more agreeable country for him to live in.

He consequently took up his abode in that place, but, being afraid to put the money in any bank, for fear that his enemies would claim it, he buried the treasure, and later, foolishly, went to Valparaiso, where he was arrested and imprisoned.

Naturally the Government wanted the money, and they tried all the means in their power to obtain it. Col. Pinto refused to divulge the hiding-place of the treasure, and the fact getting abroad that the money was buried, almost everybody around the usually quiet town of La Plata is digging with pick and shovel in their hunt for the steel chest.—Science Siftings.

The Moulting of Birds.

The strain of a year's wear, with exposure to wet, sun and wind, upon the innumerable fibres and hooklets brings the feather into a somewhat dilapidated condition. It then, by a natural process, falls from its attachment, and a new and perfect one grows in its place.

Although the feathers develop rapidly, there must naturally be an interval between the loss of the old one and the time the new one is sufficiently perfected to be of use, and it may consequently be thought that the bird's power of flight would be impaired or destroyed during the time of the moult. To a certain extent this is the case, but the injurious consequences are greatly mitigated by several compensating circumstances. In the first place, the moult of the wing feathers always occurs in the autumn, after the exertion and activity called forth by the domestic duties of spring and summer—the courtship, nest-building and feeding of the young brood—are over, and existence has become comparatively quiet and monotonous. Then, again, by a most admirable physiological arrangement, instead of all the feathers moulting simultaneously or even irregularly, the change takes place according to a regular plan, and symmetrically in the two wings; the feathers on the two sides falling out in pairs.

In this way the wings of opposite sides are always in the same condition, and the inconvenience is minimized to the greatest possible extent. It is well known that to incapacitate a bird from flight it is only necessary to produce an inequality in the wings by clipping the end of one. If both are shortened the power will be retained, although, of course, not in the same perfection as before. On this principle birds are able to preserve to a considerable extent the faculty of flight during the whole period of moulting their wing feathers.—Good Words.

A wife is usually a powerful extinguisher to the man who thinks he will set the world on fire.

Free Coal and the People.

As to what free coal will do for the people of the country at large. The Post has already expressed its opinion more than once. That it will injure ninety-nine where it benefits one, seems to us as clear as the noonday sun. Now comes Mr. John H. Inman, a man of affairs, a leader in the financial world, a profound and a successful student of the problems of economy, who has his doubts as to the remaining one after the ninety-nine shall have been disposed of.

Mr Inman says:

"It is highly problematical whether free coal would benefit the poor of even a single Southern seaport, but, on the other hand, it would prove a tax on many thousands of Southern consumers at inland points. Take away the through traffic of a railroad, and it is inevitable that the loss will, as far as possible, be recouped by the raising of local freight rates. The people in towns between the mines and the seaboard, along lines of rail having long hauls of either coal or iron, ought, from a standpoint of self-protection, be the most vigorous resisters of either free wool or free ore, or the cutting to 22½ per cent. ad valorem of the duty on pig iron."

We quote from an interview with Mr. Inman published in a recent issue of the Manufacturers' Record, in the course of which he discusses the significance and probable operation of the Wilson bill should that measure eventually become a law. It may be said, of course, that Mr. Inman is a railroad man and that he speaks in the railroad interest. Friends of the bill may easily attempt the argument of prejudice and in that way seek to break the force of Mr. Inman's proposition. In all likelihood they will. But it seems to us that his warning is all the more weighty in that he knows whereof he speaks, and forecasts the course of the railroads in the light of a perfect familiarity with their necessities. No one, we imagine, will deny that free coal will cut down the through freight business of many of our great trunk railroads, and no one except a poet or a dreamer expects the railroads to be conducted at a loss. It is only rational to assume, therefore, that if legislation should curtail their revenues in one direction they must recruit them in another or close out entirely. If they adopt the latter expedient, untold misery will be entailed upon millions of people. If the former, every patron of the railroads will have to contribute to make good the deficit. In either event, free coal becomes a costly luxury to the people. In either event it is a blunder.

Only dupes and demagagues declare that the railroads are a curse and that the country would be better off without them. Honest and intelligent men know that they are the most potent agents of civilization and the largest factors in our National prosperity. All the blatherskites that ever brayed to a credulous rabble are not worth as much in the scheme of human progress as a tramway from here to Bladensburg. Railroads build up waste places; they populate deserts; they make nations homogeneous and therefore strong, they furnish employment for whole communities of industrious and frugal people. And legislation that strikes at them strikes at everything useful and wholesome and civilizing in the entire country.—Washington Post.

FREE TRIALS convince the skeptic and point the way which if followed leads to VIGOROUS HEALTH FOR MEN

THE PASTILLE CURE FOR NERVOUS DEBILITY TRADE MARK

Prof. HARRIS' SOLUBLE MEDICATED Pastille

Has been put up in a proprietary form since 1878, and has been used for years prior to that time in private practice. It is no untried nostrum, of doubtful reputation, but a genuine specific for a very prevalent disease. Thousands of men, of all ages, have at some time in life brought on nervous debility and exhaustion, with organic weakness, by over brain work, excesses, too frequent indulgence or indiscretion and vicious habits, and it is to these that we offer a remedy that will, by its direct action upon the seat of the disease, stop the drain and restore the patient to vigorous health and strength.

Our method of introducing

treatment is one which commends itself to all sensible persons—for the reason that we supply it upon their judgment of its value. We ask of our patrons nothing in the way of expense beyond a postal card and a two cent postage stamp. The postal card to be used in sending us their full address and the postage stamp for the letter returning the statement of their case for which we supply them with a question blank, to be filled out, and an envelope addressed to ourselves for use in returning it when filled.

FREE TRIAL PACKAGE. When we receive the statement on blank we prepare eight days' treatment and forward it by mail and prepay postage thereon—and along with the eight days' treatment we send full directions for using. The treatment in no way interferes with a person's attention to business, and causes no pain or inconvenience in any way.

We are so positive that it will give perfect satisfaction that we leave the matter of sending orders entirely with those using the free trial treatment.

Having satisfied those sending for trial packages of our ability to benefit their sexual condition we feel that they are more largely interested than ourselves in continuing the use of the Pastilles. Even then we do not attempt to rob them by demanding high prices. On the contrary, we make the prices as low as possible, and the same to all. They are as follows: $3.00 for one month; $5.00 for two months; $7.00 for three months.

These prices secure the delivery of the Pastilles by mail. If desired by express we leave the patient to pay the charges. For over ten years we have operated our business upon this plan with satisfactory results.

We ask all persons needing treatment for any of the secret ills which come to mankind through a violation of nature's laws to send us their address on postal card or by letter and allow us to convince them that PROF. HARRIS' SOLUBLE MEDICATED PASTILLES have merit and are what they need.

An Awful Revenge.

A WOMAN FOLLOWS THE MAN WHO BETRAYS HER ACROSS THE OCEAN AND POISONS HIM.

A woman will love a man so devotedly that giving up everything for him is no sacrifice, but if that love is scorned, and that love is scorned, and her trust and faith laughed at, it turns to a hate as deadly as that attributed to the fiery blooded Corsican. Perhaps Gena Sepal, a handsome young Italian did not think of this when he won and then scorned the love of Anna Villela, in sunny Italy, but he now lies cold in death, a victim of his own wrongdoing and her revenge.

Two or three years ago Sepal, then a jeweler's assistant in Naples, met Anna Villela and won her love under promise of marriage. She gave up everything for him but he pos'poned the wedding from time to time, until one day she gave birth to a child, and when she appealed to him to make his promises good he laughed, thrust her from him and went away. But hers was a violent nature, and she swore that he should never live to make love to another woman. Frightened by these threats, Sepal fled to America, and after a short time in New York came on to Luzerne county where he obtained work as night watchman at a mine in Exeter.

A few days ago a strange woman arrived at the mining village and inquired for Sepal. Friends of his pointed out his boarding house. The woman went there but Sepal being asleep, she asked his landlady not to disturb him and inquired minutely into his habits, where he worked and what hours he was on duty. She then left, asking the landlady to keep her visit a secret. The landlady, however, told Sepal when he awoke, and the fellow at once divined that the strange visitor was the girl he had wronged. He went to work that night as usual, taking his lunch in a tin bucket. At 4 o'clock in the morning he returned deathly sick. He explained that directly after eating his lunch he began to suffer with severe pains in his stomach and made his way home as best he could. A physician was sent for but before he arrived the unfortunate man was dead. The physician said there was every sympton of poisoning. Friends of the man now believe that the woman watched him go to work, followed, and seizing a favorable opportunity when he was making his rounds poisoned his food. She has disappeared and cannot be found.

Purity and Perfection.

MEREDITH'S BRAND OF WHISKEY MAY ALWAYS BE DEPENDED UPON.

Although no article in common use is more impaired by the introduction of impurities than whiskey, there is nothing which is more generally adulterated. Whiskey is "doctored" in one way and another by various processes and with different ingredients until it loses its identity and instead of being a valuable remedial agent becomes a dangerous decoction of drugs. Many brands of whiskey with high sounding names are actually unfit for use owing to their adulteration.

On account ot the prevalence of adulteration in whiskey it is well to know that they are pure whiskeys. The brands distilled by Messrs. G. W. Meredith & Co, East Liverpool, Ohio, and Pittsburg, may be depended upon as absolutely pure. Meridith's Diamond Club Pure Rye is one of the leading medicinal and family whiskeys in the country. It is recommended by chemists and physicians for its purity. This whiskey has taken the highest award at Chicago, for being mild, pleasant, palatable, and above everything else absolutely pure.

Another brand is Meredith's Pure Malt, which has the largest sa'e of any high grade malt whiskey in the market. It is guaranteed absolutely pure and is particularly efficacious for bronchial and pulmonary diseases. Meredith's goods are always reliable and pure.—Chester Times.

It not only relieves; it does more it cures. We refer to One Minute Cough Cure. Suitable for all ges, all conditions, at all times.—W. S. Rishton, Druggist.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS.

Interesting Items From Various Points in the County, Reported by Our Staff of Correspondents

JERSEYTOWN.

Dr. J. E. Shuman and wife visited friends at Mainville on Sunday last.

Mrs. John Converse has purchased the Geo. Lee property, located on Main street

B. F. Fruit who has been on the sick list has so far recovered that he is able to be about.

Samuel Phillips from Newberry, Pa. is the guest at his father Allen Phillips who is slightly under the weather.

Kate B. Fruit from Buckhorn was visiting friends here the past week.

We are sorry to learn that our Post master J. R. Converse is still confined to his bed. We hope to hear of his speedy recovery.

We learn that our blacksmith J. S. Lee intends leaving our town this spring to take up his abode in the County seat. He says that our town is not large enough for him. Travel slow George.

Beula Tittman from Iola has been visiting at J. W. Smith's for the past week.

The snow on Monday has put on a Winter like appearance again.

Mrs. Ray Kisner from Pittston, Pa., is home visiting her parents.

BENTON.

We had a pleasant trip to Benton one day last week and found many of the town discussing the propriety of getting Benton into the shape of a borough. A large number of the citizens are in favor of a borough. Found the new firm of Pennington & Seely busily engaged selling goods and keeping up the reputation of the old firm. Found Mr. Heddon in his element selling goods with this firm. Mr. Heddon is a leading spirit in the P. O. S. of A. The accessions to the Benton camp have been large ever since the public installation of officers, couple months ago. This camp numbers now nearly 100, with prospects of greater additions. There is no Order superior to this one in America. The G. A. R. Sons of Veterans and P. O. S. of A. are about on a par as to patriotism, and they go hand in hand and shoulder to shoulder.

The McHenry boys are rendering good service as postmasters of Benton.

J. B. McHenry is keeping up his old reputation as first class hotel proprietor. The public find in him an obliging and attentive landlord; his table and bar furnish the best viands and brands the market affords.

Pennington & Seely took in 500 R. R. ties last Friday and Saturday. They have received large car loads of timothy and clover seed. They are indulging largely in this line of goods with which they are supplying the public.

Met Mr. Stiles Clewell who is also prominently identified with the P. O. S. of A.

Hotel proprietor Kline buried an interesting little daughter recently. She had been sick but a short time with the measles.

Rohr McHenry and son, J. G., engaged in the distillery business have an entensive reputation and some of their brands are eagerly called for in Philadelphia and Baltimore markets.

Dr. Patterson is very busy in his medical practice—mud and measles are plenty.

William Kline who was the active superintendent of the McHenry livery stable is now the active man in the McHenry house and clerk behind the bar, who is ready and willing to attend to all the wants and wishes of the public.

Met Prof. Johnston at Benton, who was busily engaged visiting the schools. There will be a Teacher's Institute at Benton the coming Saturday.

EAST BENTON.

The winter thus far is remarkable for its serenity and mildness. It furnishes a good example for the blustering and boisterous husband who is so frigid that he cannot be thawed out by the warm heart of a loving wife.

The farmers hereabouts feel very much rebuked (?) concerning the proposed "income tax bill." Not one of them will be favored with a tax on the proposed "revenue bill" How fortunate (?) they are that they have not an income of $5,000 annually.

Abraham Crawford of this place is in a critical condition without much hope of recovery. Grippe and weak lungs wear hard on the physical constitution.

Samuel Gibbons is just emerging from an attack of the grippe.

Daniel Ashelman is cozily domiciled in his new house.

A cluster of blasted and defective plums are yet hanging on the revenue collector plum tree which will drop prematurely, and be rejected as not convenient for the public use.

The caucus held in the McHenry House hall last Saturday was largely attended. I have not yet learned what candidates constitute the caucus nominees.

"A public office is a public trust." And why should it not be? A faithful public servant, who is known and has been tried, with experience of public life, is it good policy to exchange him for one who is unknown and untried? A rotation or "my turn" of office, is right in principle, but is it always best for the public good? The people know who their most faithful public servants are, and if they consult their own interests instead of that of 'my turn," they will know who to keep in the harness.

It's all the same, a slight cold, congested lungs or severe cough. One Minute Cough Cure banishes them.—W. S. Rishton, Druggist.

A PRETTY FACE

is the result of a healthy physical condition. "Beauty is but skin deep" yet it greatly depends on a clear complexion, free from wrinkles and hollow cheeks.

Health always brings wealth of beauty. A healthy state of the system comes with Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It's a medicine prepared for woman's ailments—it cures those derangements and weaknesses which make woman's life miserable.

A woman who neglects to take proper exercise is particularly prone to excessive congestion, debility and a sluggish circulation. This is the time we advise the "Prescription." In all derangements and displacements of the special organs which result in "signs of inflammation," in catarrhal discharges from the lining membranes, and in distressing irregularities—this medicine is guaranteed to benefit or cure, or the money is returned.

Mrs. J. H. HORSNYDER, 152 Pacific Ave., Santa Cruz, Cal., writes:

"When a girl at school, in Reading, Ohio, I had a severe attack of brain fever. On my recovery, I found myself perfectly bald, and, for a long time, I feared I should be permanently so. Friends urged me to use Ayer's Hair Vigor, and, on doing so, my hair and I now have as fine a head of hair as one could wish for, being changed, however, from blonde to dark brown."

Began to Grow,

"After a fit of sickness, my hair came out in combfulls. I used two bottles of

Ayer's Hair Vigor

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29, 1894

Victory is in sight. It has been a hard fight and it is not yet quite done with, but victory is in sight, and next Thursday—the time of taking the vote was postponed in order to allow two days for the debate on the income tax amendment—the Wilson tariff bill will be passed by the House and it will include the income tax There has never been a moment of doubt in the minds of Chairman Wilson and the democrats who have been associated with him in leading this fight as to final success, and the number of doubters has been gradually lessening since the democratic caucus of last week endorsed the proposition to make the income tax an amendment to the Wilson bill. There are some hard fighters among the democrats who have refused to be bound by the action of the caucus and the opening of the debate on the income tax amendment to-day shows a bitter state of feeling, which will probably result in lessening the majority by which the Wilson bill will be passed by about twenty votes, but the object long sought for will be obtained; it will be passed.

The few amendments adopted, aside from those approved by the Ways and Means committee, bears out the prediction I made when the bill was first reported. Only two amendments—that changing the date which the free wool clause shall take effect upon, (was afterwards changed for a committee amendment naming Aug. 2, 1894.) and that abolishing the sugar bounty and putting refined sugar on the free list—of importance which were opposed by the committee were adopted by the House, while the committee succeeded in defeating proposed amendments strongly backed to change the following clauses of the bill: coal, iron ore, steel rails, tin plate, agricultural products, cotton, salt, lumber, besides a number of lesser importance. Complete printed copies of the amendment bill were on the desks of members to-day for the first time.

"It's an ill wind" etc. While the friends of the Wilson tariff bill regret that the condition of Senator McPherson's health would not permit him to remain in Washington and perform the arduous duties that pertain to his membership of the sub-committee of the Senate Finance committee, which will have charge of the tariff bill as soon as it passes the House and is sent over to the Senate, they rejoice that so staunch a tariff reformer as Senator Mills, of texas, will take his place on the sub-committee. The experience of Senator Mills in preparing and getting the Mill's bill through the House several years ago made him a tariff expert and will make him a valuable addition to the committee.

The democratic Senators made it plain to their republican colleagues that they intend to pass the bill for the repeal of the odious election laws, although disposed to allow the opponents of the bill all the time they reasonably desire to talk against it, by promptly defeating the motion of Senator Chandler, who has been allowed to pose as the leader of the republicans in the debate, to postpone further consideration of the bill to next December.

Representative Bailey's resolution expressing the belief that the Secretary of the Treasury has no legal authority to use the proceeds of bonds sold under the resumption act for any other purpose than that stated in the act has been favorably reported to the House from the Judiciary committee and Mr. Baily will endeavor to get a vote on it after the tariff has been disposed of. Secretary Carlisle does not agree with Mr. Bailey. On the contrary, he contends that he can legally use every dollar that is in or may come into the Treasury that is "otherwise unappropriated" to meet the obligations of the government. The bonds will be issued this week, unless the attempt that is being made to-day by lawyers in the employ of the Knights of Labor to secure an injunction from the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia to prevent the sale of the bonds shall succeed, and that nobody expects.

It is understood from a trustworthy source that President Cleveland has tendered the position of public printer to Mr. F. A. Crandall, of Buffalo, N. Y., and that Mr. Crandall has accepted it. The same authority says that the nomination will probably not go to the Senate until that of Mr. Peckham to the Supreme Court vacancy shall have been acted upon.

Two of the regular appropriation bills—Pensions and District of Columbia—have been reported to the House. The pension appropriation carries $151,581,570, which is about $15,000,000 less than the appropriation made at the last session of Congress. The appropriation for the District of Columbia is nearly $2,000,000 less than the estimates of the District authorities. All of this session's appropriations will be cut in the economical style.

DR. KILMER'S

SWAMP-ROOT

CURED ME.

GRAVEL! GRAVEL! GRAVEL!

LARGE AS A GOOSE EGG.

Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

Gentlemen:—"I was under the care of different physicians for nearly two years; tried every doctor in our town continued to suffer and decline until I was a physical wreck.

The most learned physicians made examinations and pronounced my case one of Gravel or Stone in the Bladder, and said that I would never be any better until it was removed by a surgical operation. Oh! I thought what next? Every one felt sad; I myself. gave up, as an operation seemed to us all certain death. I shall never forget how timely the good news of your SWAMP-ROOT reached me. I send you by this same mail a sample of the stone or gravel that was dissolved and expelled by the use of your SWAMP-ROOT. It must have been as large as a good sized goose egg. I am feeling as well to-day as I ever did. I kept right on using SWAMP-ROOT, and it saved my life. If any one doubts my statement I will furnish proof." LAFORNE BOWERSMITH,

Dec. 26th, 1892. Marysville, Ohio.

Dropsical Swelling, Cold as Ice.

"Swamp-Root" saved my life after I had suffered everything but death.

I send you my photograph and this description of my case and you can use it if you wish.

My hands were as cold as ice; fire would not warm them. Dropsical swellings of the lower limbs; I could not button my shoes. Exertion completely exhausted me; death seemed so very near. The swellings have gone and all my troubles have disappeared. My health is better now than it has been for years. "SWAMP-ROOT" made the cure. Tell doubting ones to write me I will tell them all about it." MRS. R. J. CUTSINGER,

Jan. 15, 1893. Marietta, Shelby Co., Ind.
